教學綱要

Journey of One Thousand Miles Begins with A Single Step. "This course is intended to explore the policy issues of national health insurance in Taiwan. During the run of this course, we will first look at Health and review its related concept, then Principle of Economic Appraisal, Planning for Health, The Utilization of Health Care Resources and Integration of Preventive Services into Primary Care will be introduced. Finally, Policy Issues in National Health Insurance will be presented and discussed. Moreover, The Visionary Macro-View of Health System Reform will be postulated. This course requires a lot of dialogue among students and instructor and oral presentation. By the end of semester, students will be required to make group presentations and turn in a structured final paper.
