RAY JUNCTION

The traditional extension railing is bulky and heavy. It takes up a large space when being put away. RAY JUNCTION replaces extension railing with infrared projection and stainless poles with air bags. Users can easily store the air bags and infrared projectors into the base in order to facilitate stacking and moving. The power source of the infrared projector comes from hydro-batteries.