Life-saving socket

When there is a fire due to heavy smoke, the best way for evacuating is to crawl along the corner. Sometimes, it's difficult for people to find the way out when they are hurt.

Life-saving socket is designed to solve this problem. Especially, it's a socket for electrical appliances.

When a fire occurs, the socket will be flipped over and the LED on the top will indicate the direction for evacuating.